

Meet Coastal Georgia's Ambassadors

"The Landings Club 500-strong amateur women's golf organization is the largest in the nation for a private club." – STEVEN FREUND

Condé Nast Traveler, USA Today, Prevo Health Solutions, Bliss Awards, and Savannah Magazine all laud The Landings Club as a top private community.

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA: When The Landings Club was founded in 1971, success was far from certain. Who would be attracted to Coastal Georgia? How would utilities be economically built? And, most importantly, who would navigate the 42 regulatory agencies requiring permits.

"We have come a long way since those early days," commented Steven Freund, president of The Landings Club. "Our 5,500-acre island [The Landings occupies 4,500 of those acres], surrounded by salt marshes and the Intracoastal Waterway, has become one of the most affluent and well respected communities in the Southeast."

The hallmark of The Landings Club is access to six golf courses designed by Arnold Palmer, Tom Fazio, Arthur Hills, and Willard Byrd.

"From its inception, it was destined to be one of the country's finest residential communities," explained Tom Fazio. "By the time I designed Deer Creek, it had developed into one of the country's premier golf communities."

"The Landings Club is top-notch golf. Not many private clubs in the world can compare to its diverse courses and overall amenities. It is an ideal setting for great living. I refer to it as a golfer's golf club delight," praised

Fazio. "My course, Deer Creek, is a core design with distinctive, tall pines and the LowCountry marsh edges come into play. I had a wonderful piece of land to work with and the setting is one of a kind."

"I have many golf courses I am proud of. If I placed my top 15 designs into a hat, and only one could be picked, I would be happy to stake my reputation on Deer Creek's quality golf experience."

DEFINITION OF COMMUNITY

"The definition of community—a feeling of fellowship with others, as a result of sharing common attitudes, interests, and goals—couldn't be more appropriate in describing The Landings Club," expressed Freund. "There is a kinship among our members that is unusually strong."

"One of our best tools to recruit new members is our Ambassador Program that pairs a prospective couple with a member couple," said Freund. "Hearing about our attributes from residents gives a bird's-eye view into our special way of life." ■
