MORE WAYS TO PLAY

From your balcony at The Lodge at Sea Island, you'll overlook the Plantation Course and outstretched sea. Enjoy butler service and delight in milk and cookies served at bedtime.

SEA ISLAND, GEORGIA: "The Cloister doesn't tiptoe around its five-star status," lauded Zach Johnson, winner of over $40 million on the PGA TOUR. "There are so many options to experience its understated elegance."

A BEACHSIDE RETREAT

Sea Island is the only resort in the world to achieve four Forbes Five-Star ratings nine years in a row with The Cloister, The Lodge, The Georgian Room, and The Spa at Sea Island receiving the prestigious designation.

The resort offers five uniquely different accommodations: The Cloister (located between the ocean and the Black Banks River), The Lodge (an English-style manor suited for golfers), The Inn (closest to outside boutiques and restaurants), Broadfield (a 5,800-acre sporting club and lodge), and Cottages (ideal for family reunions).

Guests have the choice of three courses: Seaside, Plantation, and Retreat. "The Seaside Course gets most of the attention," said Johnson. "It's shotmaking at its best. Holes intertwine with the marsh and the marsh ebbs and flows with the tide.

"Also noteworthy are the practice facilities and instructional programming. They are crazy good!

"After play, retire to the Oak Room at The Lodge for a frosty beer while listening to a bagpiper at sunset. Make sure to enjoy a good, hearty dinner so you can repeat again the next day." ■
