

A Golfer's Golf Club Delight

"The Landings Club offers top-notch golf. Not many private clubs in the world can compare to its diverse courses and overall amenities." – TOM FAZIO

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA: The Web.com Tour is one of six Tours underneath the PGA TOUR umbrella. This year, the top 50 Web.com money winners receive a golden ticket—a PGA TOUR card making them eligible to compete for millions (just the four majors offer a combined payout of $40 million).

"I like to refer to the Web.com Tour as the path to the PGA TOUR," said Tim Iley, senior director of the Web.com Tour. "Since 1991, Web.com alumni have won 468 PGA TOUR sanctioned tournaments."

The Landings Club, about a 25-minute drive from Savannah, has agreed to host a springtime Web.com tournament for the next five years. "It is the perfect venue for us," continued Iley. "The Tom Fazio designed Deer Creek Course [one of six courses at The Landings] is gorgeous, Tour caliber, and has some of the best conditioned greens on the Web.com Tour. With on-site golf staff to draw from and an amazing volunteer base of residents to assist, I am confident of success."

"I have many golf courses I am proud of," expressed Tom Fazio, golf course architect. "If I placed my top 15 designs into a hat and only one could be picked, I would be happy to stake my reputation on Deer Creek's quality golf experience."

MEMBER OWNED, TOUR APPROVED

The hallmark of The Landings is member access to designs by Arnold Palmer, Tom Fazio, Arthur Hills, and Willard Byrd. It's the only coastal private community

LAST YEAR, THE LANDINGS CLUB was named "Best Georgia Community of the Year" at the Bliss Awards.

Deer Creek Course

offering access to six courses, each with a slightly different feel. Off the course, The Landings amenities are impressive with four clubhouses, two full-service marinas, 30 miles of trails, 150+ stocked lagoons, six pickleball courts, 32 Har-Tru tennis courts, 35+ youth camps, five pools, and a two-acre community farm. The membership just approved a $25 million renewal and investment that includes a major expansion to its Wellness Center.

"What The Landings brings to us," concluded Dan Glod, Web.com Tour president, "is it's where we need to be." ■

For membership information, visit LandingsClub.com.

THE LANDINGS CLUB, surrounded by salt marshes and the Intracoastal Waterway, has become one of the most affluent and well respected communities in the Southeast. We look forward to welcoming the Web.com Tour to our expansive facilities."

– SCOTT EDWARDS, DIRECTOR OF MARKETING