

The East Course is famous for Jack Nicklaus's win during the 1971 PGA Championship.

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FLORIDA: At the urging of Barbara Nicklaus, Bruce Fleischer, winner of over $14 million on the PGA and Champions Tours, visited BallenIsles.

"We were living in Miami and my wife Wendy and I made the drive up I-95 for a tour," recalled Fleischer. "Two courses were complete and the third was under construction. I must admit that I become bored quickly. The idea of having three distinctly different courses at one community had great appeal.

"I earned my Tour card back in 1971, along with a quality crop of other players, including Tom Watson," continued Fleischer. "I was playing well and earning a good paycheck, so we decided to purchase at BallenIsles in the early 1980s and became one of its first homeowners. Then, like now, the attributes of BallenIsles were undeniable. Access to the best of shopping, restaurants, medical care, quality schools, and Palm Beach International Airport are minutes away. Good gosh, even within the gates of BallenIsles we have almost every daily service you could need except for a grocery store!"

COME HOME TO BALLENISLES

BallenIsles is a member-owned private community with 1,575 homes. In addition to its three golf courses, residents have access to a 62,000 square-foot sports complex, a Cosmo and Company salon and spa, exceptional dining experiences, a resort-style pool, one of the largest clubhouses in South Florida, and 22 tennis courts (where Olympic Gold Medalists Venus and Serena Williams train). ■

For more information, please visit ballenisles.org, or call (561) 775-4763.

WHEN IT COMES TO luxurious golf amenities...

BallenIsles ups the ante in South Florida as they are set to open a new 115,000 square-foot clubhouse in late 2018.

---

BALLENISLES IS RANKED an Emerald Club by Boardroom Magazine. In 2015, its tennis facility was ranked No.1 in the country by the USTA.