BELFAIR...offering a different activity every day of the month

BLUFFTON, SOUTH CAROLINA: Few parts of the country offer a more robust selection of quality private golf communities than the Lowcountry.

Belfair, host of next year's 52nd PGA Professional Championship, quickly set itself apart from the competition with its commitment to golf and an envious coastal lifestyle.

"Our two Tom Fazio designs have always been our core member amenity," lauded Ken Kosak, COO and general manager at Belfair. "No matter the industry, it's careful to keep an 'ear to the ground' for changing trends. In order to remain relevant, golf facilities must evolve and continue to look for areas of improvement—including amenities, service standards, and social programming. A good golf experience is only a part of the puzzle. Today, fitness, food, and family themed activities rate just as important on a prospective member's checklist."

"BELFAIR IS AS GOOD as any golf experience you will ever play." – TOM FAZIO

Belfair recently broke ground on the largest capital expansion project along the Hilton Head Island corridor. "Our wide-ranging, $20 million long-term capital plan enhances or expands just about every aspect of Belfair with a special focus on wellness," explained Kosak.

Improvements in the works include an expanded, screened-in clubhouse porch and four-seasons sun-room for year-round dining; renovated fitness center with a whirlpool Jacuzzi; new group exercise studios; an outdoor pool and family splash pad; and modern shuffleboard, bocce ball, and pickleball courts.

from Miniverde to TiffEagle," said Kosak. While the course is closed for renovation, there is no lack of options for our members. With dozens of in-house clubs and organizations, there are options to suit every passion. When we welcome the best PGA professionals next April, I am confident they will applaud our exceptional lifestyle." ■

"YES, GOLF IS IMPORTANT, but it's not the 'be all to end all.' A community must provide a balanced, multi-faceted lifestyle."
