Leveraging its Strength

Addison Reserve offers a resort lifestyle within walking distance of your backyard.

DELRAY BEACH, FLORIDA: The award-winning private community of Addison Reserve has imaginatively named its three nine-hole championship courses Trepidation, Salvation, and Redemption.

“While each has individual characteristics making them remarkable tests of golf, you can clearly see Arthur Hills’ viewpoint throughout,” detailed Kevin Baldizar, director of golf.

Complementing the private community’s 70,000 square-foot grand clubhouse is a brand new $25 million Lifestyle Complex that features a resort-style pool surrounded by a state-of-the-art, two-story fitness center; a spa and whirlpool; a children’s area; The Grill, a casual dining restaurant; as well as waterfalls and green space for members to enjoy.

“We have been recognized as No. 7 in the U.S. and No. 32 in the world by Platinum Clubs of America,” boasted Baldizar. “Our new sport complex will only enhance our reputation.”

MOTIVATION TO MOVE

“Our three nine-hole championship golf courses provide a challenge for golfers of all abilities. Our TPI certified personal trainers and golf professionals specialize in focusing on the individual needs of our members, allowing them to expand and enhance their game of golf. We also work with our junior golfers to provide instruction and fun opportunities to ensure their continued interest in golf,” advised Baldizar. ■
