

MIRABEL

To The Editor:

"As a member at Mirabel for the past five years, I wanted to tell you about my 'little slice of heaven.' The specialness isn't lost on first-time guests. Our combination of factors include: location [some 3,000 feet above sea level about 40 minutes north of mid-Scottsdale shopping hub], scale [on 700 acres of rolling Sonoran Desert], and culture [where neighbors are neighborly]. If you are looking for a feeling of small town charm – Mirabel is it.

"Almost two decades ago, our private club was developed by Discovery Land Company, arguably the market leader in top-shelf golf communities. The cornerstone of our amenities is our Tom Fazio design that is anchored by a gorgeous 37,000 square-foot, Frank Lloyd Wright inspired desert lodge clubhouse. Wildlife is abundant and many of our custom homes have been recognized and featured in regional and national publications.

"Mr. Fazio recently exclaimed, 'Mirabel is one of the friendliest clubs in the Southwest with a real "member feel." My design has so much variety, you can't wait to play it again.'

"We are well managed, member owned, and debt free. Staff recently completed a golf course renovation and expanded our already impressive practice facilities. Last year, membership overwhelmingly approved a $6 million master facilities plan that will leave few areas of Mirabel untouched.

"I'm hoping you will let the golf industry know Mirabel is where the high desert splendor meets small town charm."

– David Scherl

A Letter to the Editor

SCOTTSDALE, ARIZONA: During a recent wide-ranging interview with Tom Fazio discussing the golf industry, he described Mirabel as a "private community with management that others around the world can learn from. Their long-range planning has created a solid financial foundation and a proud, upscale membership." A week after the discussion, our staff received this letter to the editor. ■

If you are intrigued as much as we were, please visit Mirabel.com.

