

The Ultimate Buddies Trip Escape

The Ocean Course at Kiawah Island Golf Resort has more seaside holes than any other course in North America.

KIAWAH ISLAND, SOUTH CAROLINA: During your stay at Kiawah Island Golf Resort, you have the opportunity to stroll on more than 10 miles of sand, allowing yourself to unwind at one of America's most famous golf destinations.

"Kiawah Island Golf Resort is truly a year-round golf destination," says Brian Gerard, director of golf. "But we offer a whole array of other indoor and outdoor activities that there is plenty to keep golfers busy during the hours when they are not on the course."

Amenities at Kiawah extend far beyond its five golf courses and pristine shoreline. In addition to 255 oversized rooms at The Sanctuary, its luxury oceanfront hotel, the resort also has 500 rental villas and luxury homes.

CELEBRATE THE MOMENT

"Recount your day after golf while enjoying the views from one of our clubhouse porches," recommended Gerard. "Each clubhouse offers a slightly different atmos-

The Sanctuary at Kiawah Island Golf Resort

The Kiawah Ryder Cup Package

Round up eleven of your friends and family members for three days of competition (with one round on the challenging Ocean Course, home to the 1991 "War by the Shore" Ryder Cup matches). Choose your team of six players, white or blue, during your private welcome pairing party and revel or commiserate with your partners at the closing reception. Breakfast, accommodations, golf, and all taxes are included. Priced from $1,182 per person.

phere. The Ocean Course overlooks the Atlantic Ocean. Osprey Point offers a peaceful lagoon setting, Turtle Point/Cougar Point reveals lush fairway panoramas, and Oak Point is set among the Kiawah River marshland.

"Our courses exhibit different characteristics and present distinct challenges," continued Gerard. "Each has five sets of tee boxes to match your playing ability, giving a mixed-handicap group the opportunity to compete on a level playing field. Our investment in paspalum grass, property wide, provides a consistent playing surface and, when combined with our subtropical climate, creates an outstanding playing experience year-round.

"To prepare for your visit, practice every aspect of your game," concluded Gerard. "If you are able to tag on an early arrival day, consider a tune-up lesson with one of our teaching professionals at our Tommy Cuthbert Golf Learning Center." ■

For information on seasonal golf packages, please visit KiawahResort.com.