

OUTSIDE THE BOX THINKING

The Golf Club at Devils Tower — The Ultimate Western Retreat

Bunkers are rough around the edges and fairways are framed by native grasses. The front plays through an open prairie and the back nine has more trees and elevation changes. The trio of holes 11, 12, and 13 play to the canyon rim with clear views of Devils Tower in the distance.

HULETT, WYOMING: You know the experience at The Golf Club at Devils Tower is different from the time you see the property. Built in the Equality State, the club offers something for everyone. “Additional lodging is under construction, hiking trails, and fishing are a few of the benefits our members enjoy,” says Kelvin Johnson, general manager. “Our members appreciate being able to fly their clients right to the course.

“We offer a corporate member retreat that is anything but cookie cutter,” continued Kelvin. “When you escape the city, you find here a place to relax, enjoy scenic views on a championship golf course and maybe even try your hand at skeet shooting. You have the stunning scenery of Devils Tower Monument, an astounding geologic feature that protrudes out of the prairie surrounding the Black Hills. Our members experience close encounters of the best kind.”

PACE OF LIFE

Considered “Best Little Town in the West,” Hulett has a population base that tops out at 400. “The combination of honest family values, Old West culture, and vast parcels of

The 1895 antique red birch backbar in the clubhouse was discovered at The Cowboy Bar in Belle Fourche, South Dakota. Rumor has it that a few of the more notorious Black Hills pioneers, including Seth Bullock, bellied up to the bar. The bar was restored with historical accuracy and is the centerpiece of the clubhouse.

open space make our region an appealing retreat. You may have heard of towns with no stop lights,” said Kelvin. “In our county, we don’t have a stop light. The closest thing to a traffic jam is a flock of wild turkeys blocking the road.

“Everything from our pace of life to pace of play is appealing. We all yearn for a time that treasured core values in life. I think The Golf Club at Devils Tower delivers and allows you to hit the reset button. Best of all, should you fly into our private on-site airport, you can be from tarmac to tee in 10 minutes.” ■

For learn more, please visit DevilsTowerGolf.com, or call (307) 467-5773.

The Neiman family, owners of The Golf Club at Devils Tower, is an example of who makes America great. Their privately owned sawmill has 480 employees, generates $100 million in annual revenue, and is a major supplier to Anderson Windows and several big box retailers, including The Home Depot. The on-property airport, built by the Neimans, was donated to the Town of Hulett.