

A 25+ Year Continuous Relationship With the PGA Tour

Four Seasons Hualalai, with accolades few resorts can match, has been an AAA Five-Diamond award winner approaching two decades.

KONA, ISLAND OF HAWAII: Four Seasons Hualalai, nestled among ancient lava flows and cultural sites, is a trusty comprehensive five-star experience whose land was once a retreat for Hawaiian royalty.

Just offshore is a stretch of ocean known as “Ono Lane,” one of the island’s most abundant fishing and diving regions. History shows that Kona was once the home of Kamehameha the Great, Hawaii’s most famous ruler, and the area was once a thriving fishing village.

Building the resort required several steps not required on the mainland. First, a team of archeologists searched the site, and then engineers evaluated the land to map any lava tubes bisecting the area. Once the land was cleared for heavy construction, the top layer of lava was removed to uncover dense lava rocks with a gray/blue hue, buried five to ten feet below. Those lava rocks were excavated, and are now the majestic lava walls scattered throughout the property. ■

“One of the great traditions on the Champions Tour is traveling to Hawaii in this one-of-a-kind setting. It marks the 28th year the circuit started at Hualalai.” — MILLER BRADY, PGA TOUR CHAMPIONS PRESIDENT

“We offer ocean views from every hole! Instead of fluffy Bermuda, you’ll find pristine paspalum grass allowing tightly mowed lies. It’s a testament to our location, services, and staff that have made the event the longest-running tournament on the Champions Tour schedule at the same venue.” — BRENDAN MOYNAHAN, DIRECTOR OF GOLF OPERATIONS
