

BOCA WEST

Delivering a Balanced, Holistic LIFESTYLE

For the seventh year in a row, Club Leaders Forum ranked it among the “Top 15 Clubs in the World.”

BOCA RATON, FLORIDA: When we sat down with Matthew Linderman, president and COO of Boca West Country Club, one thing was immediately clear—he’s not just managing one of the most awarded private clubs in the world, he’s redefining modern club living. With a visionary mindset and deep understanding of member expectations, Linderman shared how Boca West leads with innovation, scale, and unmatched engagement.

“From the moment you arrive, you feel it—the sense that you belong. Boca West is more than a club; it’s a community that brings new opportunities every day,” said Linderman. “Our members aren’t just residents—they’re part of a lifestyle that inspires, engages, and brings people together all year long.”

Often called a “cruise ship on land,” Boca West’s campus reflects its members’ diverse interests—from culinary and cultural to fitness and fashion. With over 600 annual events, the social calendar mirrors the community’s energy, a reflection of Linderman’s belief that programming should be as personalized as the members.

SENSORY OVERLOAD

Boca West golf features four acclaimed 18-hole courses, a four-acre short game area, and a driving range with 50 tee stalls. It was the first club in the nation to install Inrange radar tracking technology. Over the past decade, Boca West has invested $250 million in facilities, with another $95 million approved—all without a single member assessment.

“Our long-range plan reflects a desire to exceed expectations at every turn. As the phrase from Field of Dreams goes: ‘If you build it, they will come,’” added Linderman.

This summer, pickleball courts expanded from 14 to 25. Last year, the Lifestyle & Racquet Center debuted its five-pool Aquatic Center, two new dining venues, bringing the total to eight, and a 72,000-square-foot Fitness Center. It also introduced a family game lounge, an Art and Epicurean Studio, and Market Square (a gourmet grab-and-go market with curated selections, fresh coffee, and house-made specialties).

Boca West Country Club is where every detail speaks to the art of living well—and exceptional moments happen daily. ■
